Do you know what a tongue twister is? Well, let's try one then...

Hello, everybody, my name is Ernie the elf, and today, we are going to do a Christmas tongue twister. Are you ready? I said, Are you ready?

Great. Then let's go.

The tongue twister is called the excellent elves. Elves. That's a hard word.

Repeat: Elves. Good. Okay. It goes like this.

Eight excellent elves easily ate 88 eggs.

I'm going to say it again slowly.

Eight excellent elves easily ate 88 eggs.

Okay. Now You try...

Not bad. Okay, let's try it faster.

Eight excellent elves easily ate 88 eggs.

Your turn...

Hey, good. Now really fast. Ready? Let's go.

Eight excellent elves easily ate 88 eggs.

Your turn...

Ho ho ho. You are really good experts. Okay.

Now we're gonna try it superfast, okay?

No. No. It's very difficult. What do you think? Can we do it?

Yes. Yes? Okay, let's go.

But I'm still a little nervous because it's very, very difficult. Okay.

Here goes super, superfast:

Eight excellent elves easily ate 88 eggs.

Now it's your turn. 1 2 3...

This is how the elves deal with the letters you send to Santa!

This song is called "Santa's letters everywhere" from Elf on the shelf

December 15th

Did you write a letter to Santa yet? Wait until tomorrow!

Why do we write letters to Santa? With Christmas around the corner, children from around the world are now writing their letters to Santa. The tradition of writing a letter to Santa has been in practice for generations around the globe. Every year, children all over the world write letters to Santa. Some leave letters in their shoes or in the Christmas stocking pinned above the fireplace. Others send letters addressing Santa's workshop from the North Pole, or even throw letters into the fireplace so they will float up the chimney and fly to the North Pole. According to the stories about him, Santa Claus lives at the North Pole with his wife, Mrs Claus. Throughout the year, Santa and his elves make toys for Christmas. Santa's elves are small magical creatures that help Santa, also known as Santa's helpers. Some take care of Santa's reindeer and others bake cookies and make candies. Santa has a total of 9 reindeer, Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Vixen, Comet, Cupid, Donner, Blitzen, and Rudolph the red nose.

One of the biggest jobs of the elves at the North Pole is working in the mail department. The elves go through all Santa's letters from children and make sure that each and every one is read by Santa.

On Christmas Eve, Santa travels all around the world on a slide pulled by reindeer and delivers toys to each child's house. Children usually leave some milk and cookies for him near the Christmas tree. Did you know that even though it's always cold at the North Pole and it is always covered with snow, the elves never get cold. Their bodies are designed to be in cold weather. They also have elf clothing to keep them warm and cozy.

So why do we write letters to Santa? In a tradition that has been around for decades, millions of children write letters to Father Christmas to tell him how they have been good all year and what presents they would like. So be good and help your parents, brothers or sisters, your friends, or your neighbors. The more good you do, the happier Christmas you will have. Christmas is the best time of the year, so let us all enjoy it.

Merry Christmas to everyone!

Merry Christmas!
