Here's a beautiful and modern Christmas song you may know.

*It's the most beautiful time of the year
Lights fill the streets, spreading so much cheer
I should be playing in the winter snow
But I'mma be under the mistletoe
I don't wanna miss out on the holiday
But I can't stop staring at your face
I should be playing in the winter snow
But I'mma be under the mistletoe
With you, shawty, with you
With you, shawty, with you
With you, under the mistletoe
Everyone's gathering around the fire
Chestnuts roasting like a hot July
I should be chilling with my folks, I know
But I'mma be under the mistletoe
With you, shawty, with you
With you, shawty, with you
With you, under the mistletoe
The wise men followed the star, the way I followed my heart
And it led me to a miracle, Ayy love
Don't you buy me nothing, cause I am feeling one thing
Your lips on my lips, that's a merry, merry Christmas
It's the most beautiful time of the year
Lights fill the streets, spreading so much cheer
I should be playing in the winter snow
But I'ma be under the mistletoe
I don't wanna miss out on the holiday
But I can't stop staring at your face
I should be playing in the winter snow
But I'mma be under the mistletoe
With you, shawty, with you
With you, shawty, with you
With you, under the mistletoe*

SANTA'S WISHLIST: kindness, gratitude and good behavior. Once upon a time in the frosty North Pole, Santa Claus was preparing for his favorite night, Christmas Eve. Instead of material gifts this year, Santa had a different idea: He decided to make his own wishlist for all the children. On his list, he wrote not toys or candies but virtues: good behavior, Kindness and Gratitude were his desired presents from each child. Every night, he would look at his list hoping that children across the world were practicing these virtues, thus filling their invisible stockings. On Christmas Eve, Santa set off on his sleigh carrying no physical presents, but the joy of knowing children had embraced his values. As children woke up, they found no material gifts but notes praising their virtues, spreading a feeling of love and pride throughout. And so, the true spirit of Christmas was celebrated teaching an invaluable lesson of kindness, gratitude and good behavior beyond materialistic desires.

a stocking

December 21th

You should hang a Christmas stocking so your parents can fill them up!

Christmas is one of the most anticipated times of the year. For most people, Christmas means getting with family, getting presents, decorating the house, putting up a tree, and eating lots of awesome desserts. One of the most iconic parts of Christmas is the stocking. It's pretty simple: a sock of some sort or a sock shaped bag that's hung over the fireplace on Christmas Eve and filled with small toys, candies, and other things often referred to as stocking stockings.

But why do people use stockings in the 1st place? Is it just one of those traditions someone started and other people liked it and caught on, or does it have a much deeper history behind it?

Christmas stockings are often thought to originate from a legend of a recently widowed man with 3 daughters and no money.

Saint Nicholas heard of this and came to the family's home, and fill the girls' stockings, which had been hung over the fireplace to dry. He placed gold in their stockings so that they could get married. In another version, there's a very poor family, and the father was planning on selling his daughters to save them all from starvation. Saint Nicholas knew the man wouldn't accept charity, so he gave them gold in their stockings in secret.

This folktale has been retold countless times and has been adapted with many variations. However, for the most part, it always featured saint Nicholas filling stockings.

This is actually how Saint Nicholas became known popularly as a gift giver. In some stories, Saint Nicholas filled the stockings with gold balls, so 3 oranges became a symbol of Saint Nicholas in some places too.

Saint Nicholas, who we often refer to in today's world as Santa Claus, was a Christian bishop who lived in the time of the Roman empire. He was known for many miracles and was often referred to as Nicholas, the wonder worker. We often hear that stockings get filled with toys and candies for good children and coal for children who misbehave, which originated in western culture to get kids to act good pretty much.

Some have claimed that the tradition goes back to Scandinavian cultures prior to Christianity during Yule, where Odin would ride on an 8 legged horse and give children gifts in exchange for food to feed his horse.

Still, this claim is not accepted by most scholars and historians. With their iconic red sock design, stockings have become one of the most interesting Christmas traditions.

Once you see a stocking, you know that it's Christmas. It's a visual symbol and an iconic staple.

Let's get ready for Christmas Eve!

CHRISTMAS EVE

The day before Christmas is Christmas Eve. It is a very busy time for families in England. They prepare gifts, make Christmas cake, hang stockings near the fireplace. Children often write letters to Father Christmas or Santa with their wishes.

Many of them believe that while they are sleeping, Father Christmas comes to visit. They think he's a real old man in red with a big sack of toys, sweets and other presents, he puts them in the children's stockings.

A TRADITIONAL CHRISTMAS DAY

Some Christians go to church at midnight on Christmas Eve while others go on Christmas morning. There are special Christmas services in all Christian churches. Some people don't go to church, but on Christmas Day, families try to be together.

People travel long distances to spend a family Christmas.

Children and adults usually open their presents on Christmas morning around the Christmas tree or sometimes even in bed.

This is a very happy moment, especially for the children.

In Great Britain, there is a big Christmas lunch with special foods.

People start cooking the Christmas meal very early especially when there is a turkey. A big turkey takes a long time to cook.

Christmas crackers are an old tradition and are part of the Christmas lunch. Two people pull the cracker until it goes bang, and opens.

Inside, there is a small present, a paper hat, and a joke.

People sometimes wear the paper hat during the rest of Christmas lunch.
